

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

The present invention is directed to a recording device and method for recording digital data constituting a program on a disc-shaped recording

- 5 medium using a specified minimum data length (CDA) unit that must be contiguous. Digital data constituting a first and second programs that are mutually different are alternately recorded on the disc-shaped recording medium using the specified data length (CDA) unit.

004519 032300